

My Dad

12

CUE: BEN: I am a Dad! Your Dad!

(Lily, Ben)

BEN: And this Dad really wants to hear your mysterious application!

LILY: Really?

BEN: Yes!

LILY: O-kay...

$\text{♩} = 72$

3

1-3

LILY

I'm app -

5

ly - ing for a place in the tent on be-half of my dad. His name's Ben. And if men could be scored out of ten then my dad would be nine. And a half he lo - ses half - marks cos his i - cing is — slo - ppy, his fon - dant — too wet. But I bet he'd be so much

9

13

17

be-tter if he could just — get a less wet-ter tech - nique. But if my dad was on your show I know he would kill it! Peop-le say he's a 25

21

bak - ing pro so he'd def-inite-ly win it, but he needs a make-o - ver, Bake Off please take - o - ver! Stop him from wear-ing his den - im and — plaid. Please pick my

29

33 Push on ♩ = 76

BEN: Hey I like this shirt...
It was my Granddad's.

LILY: You can tell.
BEN: Well go on, carry on...

dad. 34-36

LILY: [lying] No - that's it -

BEN: No, there's loads more... I can see...

LILY: No - really - It's just waffle. Honestly.

37-40

BEN: C'mon - Give it here... It can't be that bad... Unless you told them about my Elvis impersonation...

41-44

LILY: Oh trust me, no-one needs to know about that.

45-47

Dear

49 Tempo primo ♩ = 72

peop - le who pick the con - test - ants I need you to know I'm so wo-rried he's let him-self go. Since Mum passed a - way — he spends ev - ery day

55 LILY Yes you do. Cos Mum was the
— in his shed with his tool - kit. I don't!

58 glue, now he's fa - lling ap - art. Tells his friends he's fine but BEN Tells his friends he's fine but